■ The Institution

The University College of Teacher Education in Lower Austria (PH NÖ), situated about 20 kilometers south of Vienna in Baden, has been a centre for teacher education since 1968.

About 3,000 students are currently attending Bachelor or Master Programmes at our institution to become highly qualified specialists in Primary or Elementary Education. In addition, there is a special focus on continuous professional development in numerous pedagogical and content areas.

Our campus provides a well-stocked library including electronic resources and an online support, a cafeteria, and various sporting facilities.

■ Study Areas

PH NÖ offers a wide range of courses in the fields of primary and elementary education, and modern and well-equipped venues. Furthermore, it provides the latest technologies and teaching methodology based on the most recent scientific findings in an open and friendly atmosphere.

Our practice primary school is part of the campus. Thus, our students are able to take their first practical steps in teaching within a school-practice and lesson-study programme.

■ Erasmus+ Programme

Incoming students need to have a sound knowledge of German and/or English to be able to successfully complete their courses (B2 or above). We aim at fostering linguistic competences and offer extensive support in language acquisition.

The students' union office is located on the ground floor. The students' representatives are highly motivated to help collaborate with the International Office (Erasmus programme office) which you find on the 3rd floor.

■ International Cooperation

We actively develop contacts with universities in elsewhere Europe and the world. We take part in various student and academic staff mobility programmes.

■ The City of Baden

Baden, a spa town with approximately 30 000 inhabitants, is located 23 kilometers south of Vienna.

Walking through Baden means walking in the footsteps of emperors, musicians, and writers. Vineyards around the town and extensive forests to the west characterize Baden's charming location. Come and see for yourself...
